Yeah, sure, I could bypass the security by squeezing through that drone maintenance door, but I don't want to embarrass you in front of the other vertebrates. I'll just cut it open.

You were spawned in a lab in the Philippines. Less said, the better. You were lucky to make it off-world, signing up with a group of scavengers to get by after the Fall. They all sucked, except for Berk-Berk's solid. So you two split and did your own thing. Your first score was some weird tech that must
